In the presence of a large number of guests on Christmas Day, December 25th, at 11 o'clock, a. m., Miss Lillie Over and Mr. Hardy W. Pitts, both of Cline, were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony, Rev. Connett, of the Congregational church performing the ceremony.

The bride was robed in a beautiful white satin gown elaborately trimmed with pearl passementerie and wore a long, white, chiffon bridal veil. The groom wore the conventional black. The happy couple formed a most beautiful picture.

Next to the bride in loveliness and elegance of dress was the bride's maid, Miss Berrie Over, sister of the bride, who was dressed in pink cashmere.

The best man, Mr. Albert Fisher, was dressed in the customary black and was a stately attendant.

Immediately after the ceremony hosts of congratulations were showered upon the wedded couple after which the bride-party repaired to the dining where awaited them a table which fairly groaned under the weight of the many delicacies it bore.

Prof. Geo. F. Barker, M.D., University of Penn.: "All the constituents of alum remain (from alum baking powders) in the bread, and the alum itself is reproduced to all intents and purposes when the bread is dissolved by the gastric juice in the process of digestion. I regard the use of alum as highly injurious."

Dr. Alonzo Clark: "A substance (alum) which can derange the stomach should not be tolerated in baking powder."

Prof. W. G. Tucker, New York State Chemist: "I believe it (alum) to be decidedly injurious when used as a constituent of food articles."

Prof. S. W. Johnson, Yale College: "I regard their (alum and soluble alumina salts) introduction into baking powders as most dangerous to health."

Does Your Baking Powder Contain Alum?

Prof. Geo. F. Barker, M.D., University of Penn.: "All the constituents of alum remain (from alum baking powders) in the bread, and the alum itself is reproduced to all intents and purposes when the bread is dissolved by the gastric juice in the process of digestion. I regard the use of alum as highly injurious."

Prof. S. W. Johnson, Yale College: "I regard their (alum and soluble alumina salts) introduction into baking powders as most dangerous to health."

In view of such testimony as this, every care must be exercised by the housewife to exclude the over and over condemned cheap, alum baking powders from the food.

Baking powders made from cream of tartar which is highly refined grape acid, are promotive of health, and more efficient. Another kind should be used in leavening food. Royal Baking Powder is the highest example of a pure cream of tartar powder.

On Monday evening a jolly crowd of young people gathered at the home of Miss Edith Loufoultow to watch the Old Year out and the New Year in. At twelve o'clock supper was served and only those who have had the pleasure of partaking of the numerous delicacies prepared by the skillful hand of Mrs. Loufoultow can know their real worth. The supper was immense.

At 2 o'clock the guests departed from the Wa ch party the most enjoyable gathering of the season, showering good wishes on the host and hostess and wishing that we might all live through the New Century.

NOW TO BUSINESS.

F. J. Birdsell, the retired merchant of Custer has commenced manufacturing the Birdsell saddle again. When he made saddles before at Custer he sold two hundred and forty-seven saddles.

He is using the same make of tree, that never breaks or bows a horse and would be pleased to receive orders from his old patrons.

Write me the style of saddle wanted, length of tree and price and if you don't please you, you don't take it.

Don't forget the street and number.

Respectfully yours,

IMPORTANT TO MOTHERS.

The manufacturers of Castoria have been compelled to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to familiarize the public with the signature of Class II.

Figure er. This has been investigated by pirates counterfeiting the Castoria trademark. This counterfeiting is a crime not only against the proprietors of Castoria, but against the growing generation. All persons should be careful to see that Castoria bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, if they would guard the health of their children.

Parents and mothers in particular ought to carefully examine the Castoria advertisements which have been appearing in late paper, and to remember that the wrapper of every bottle of genuine Castoria bears the famous signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, under whose supervision it has been manufactured continuously for over thirty years.

A Wonderful Offer to Women.

We have received word of a most remarkable offer which is to be made to women by The Delphine, of New York.

Taking the fact that next year begins a new century, The Delphine offers to distribute $1,000 among 100 women. The plan is to encourage married women to form clubs in their towns and villages, and to give a small town or village but just as great a chance to win one of these big prizes as a woman living in a city—because the prizes are given in a town in proportion to the population of that town, instead of being given simply to those who send the largest list of subscribers—which, of course, are mostly obtained in big cities. Another clever feature of the plan is that all the clubs throughout the United States and Canada have been arranged in seven classes. The cities of the greatest population are grouped in Class 1, and as these cities are not very many, the prizes offered are twenty-eight; the highest being $500, and the lowest $5.00. The total amount of prizes given away in this class is $1,000. The remaining smaller towns and villages fall into six other classes, and as the number of towns in a class increases, of course, there are more small towns than large ones, the amount of prizes given away in each class increases, so that in Class 7, there are 20 towns and 600 distributed among 600 women.

Furthermore, to everyone who fails to win one of the big prizes there will be paid an extra commission on subscriptions, provided we believe it already has nearly half a million subscribers.

THE IRL. R. HICKS 1901 ALMANAC

Whatever may be said of the scientific causes upon which the Rev. J. R. Hicks bases his yearly forecasts of storm and weather, it is a remarkable fact that specific warnings of every great storm, flood, cold wave and drought have been plainly printed to his now famous Almanac for many years. The latest startling proof of this fact was the destruction of Galveston, Texas, in the very day mentioned by Prof. Hicks in his 1900 Almanac, as one of the most likely to occur.

Hicks' almanac contains a great number of tables, maps, charts and diagrams, giving a complete and accurate record of the weather for each month of the year.
